

Dear student,

We are glad to welcome you to NHL Stenden University of Applied Sciences in Emmen. Hopefully, you are ready to start your study career. We would like to invite you to the Study Start Week (SSW), the introduction days before your courses start. During these days we will inform you about the programme, the courses, the systems we use and other facilities. Next to informative sessions, leisure activities will be organized for you to get to know other students better. You will be guided through these days by NHL Stenden students, teachers and coordinators of the programmes.
